Phil's operation consists of dryland cotton, wheat, milo and he is also a cattle producer. He and his wife DeAnn have a son Adam and wife Gina, and a daughter Ashley. Ashley is a student at OSU and assists with farming during the summer. Phil also does custom cotton harvesting in his local area. DeAnn is very active in daily operations of the farm and keeps harvest crews fed. Rastis "The Cotton Dog" is also a constant companion. Phil graduated from Chattanooga High School in 1976. He is currently on the Board of Directors for Tri-County Gin and Oklahoma Boll Weevil Eradication Program. He is a member of the Chattanooga Volunteer Fire Department, and on the Board of Directors for Oklahoma Cotton Council. The Bohl family was honored by Farm Bureau as "Comanche County Farm Family of the Year" in 2004.
